Subject: Access to ePrint restricted after Oct. 31

Hello,

You're receiving this email because you are identified as having access to ePrint, the report repository that allows HR and Finance staff across campus to view historic reports online. No new reports have been added to ePrint since October 1, 2014, but campus and central office staff are still viewing the reports stored on ePrint for historical purposes.

ePrint will not be retired for another year, but after October 31, 2015, when old mainframe systems are shut down, security features that limit users to specific departments will no longer be available. To protect the security of ePrint data, access will be restricted to a small group of users in central administrative offices.

Who will have access?

The ConnectCarolina team is working to determine who has a critical business need to retain access to ePrint after October 31. If you are identified as a member of that group, we'll be in touch to let you know and to tell you how to get in to the system as the date gets closer.

Questions or concerns?
